In the following pages, for Representatives, I have arranged the towns after the first insertion, by figures, alphabetical, by counties, so that a person can easily follow a town through, by observing its number at the beginning, and follow the same to 1850. Before 1783, the Speakers are in small capitals, and after that are in italic. The figures before the county officers, 1 denotes Chief Judge, 2 Side Judges, 3 Clerks, 4 Sheriffs, 5 State's Attorneys, 6 Judges of Probate, 7 Registers of Probate. Where inverted commas and a name are in one column, the person in the previous column served a part of the year.

TO THE PUBLIC.

It is expected in perusing a new book to find some reasons given why such a work is published. In this case an enquiry will be made, why is this work put forth when nothing new can be obtained from it, as the Journals of the Legislatures, Conventions, &c., and even Walton's Registers contain it all? I admit that if a person had those Journals and Registers at his command, he might learn many facts of which he is now ignorant, and will probably remain so, if he depends on that source only for his information. You may go into any Town Clerk's Office in this State, and if you can find a complete set of the Legislative journals, you will succeed better than I have done in any office or Library that I have visited, not even the State Library contain the journals of 1786, but I found one in Rutland. The journals are nearly all scattered "few and far between." The University at Burlington have for many years been collecting a perfect set of those journals, but a short time since, they had not obtained them. As for the Registers nearly every one knows, that notwithstanding all the useful information therein contained, and that which every family ought to purchase yearly and preserve, is, soon after New Year's day given to the youngest child to destroy, or deposited in the attic for the mice, to shelter them from the rude blasts of winter. The President of the Antiquarian Society, and some others within my knowledge, have been many years trying to gather up a complete set of Vermont Registers, but as yet have not been successful. As for obtaining the information herein contained, from Journals and Registers without costing a person ten times the price of the book, is folly to think of. But if a person does not wish for the information for himself or family, I have laid him under no obligation to purchase, as I have not a solitary subscriber in the State. A person may go into every town in this State that has been organized sixty years, and in nine out of ten he will be unable to obtain from any source, written or verbal, who have represented the town each year since its organization.

And furthermore, such a bold and fearless body of men as first settled Vermont, and safely carried her through all her various encounters with her numerous enemies, and safely landed her on the shores of this glorious Union with peace and plenty, deserve to have their names written in letters of gold and handed down to the last man of the last generation that shall inhabit the earth.

LEONARD DEMING.

Middlebury, May 30, 1851.

In arranging the following pages, I have endeavored to give the year in which the term of office began. In taking from the journals I found no difficulty of getting it right, nor from the Registers, only, I had to take the year previous. The term of office of the Legislative appointments in nearly all cases commenced on the first of December of the same year, but in Clerks of Courts, and Registers of Probate, it has been more difficult to get right, as some of the Courts and some of the Probate Courts do not sit till after the commencement of the year following, and their appointments being made at those sessions, my correspondents have given me the wrong year. But I have remedied that in many cases, by taking a political view of the Courts that made the appointments, and the time the first Court was holden after the Judges were appointed. I have endeavored to give the facts as they were, but I do not flatter myself to suppose that errors do not exist in the work which I have not yet ascertained. I have already found some which will be mentioned in an errata. I have in some instances had wrong information from correspondents, which they have afterwards discovered, and rectified, but too late to prevent the error occurring.

GENERAL ETHAN ALLEN,

Was born in Roxbury, Conn., in 1739. and died at Colchester, Vt., Feb. 15, 1789. The following is related of him as having taken place while a prisoner in irons on his passage to England. While closely confined to his cabin, he discovered that a pin or wire that fastened one of his handcuffs was rotten. Extricating the pieces with his teeth, he was enabled to loosen the bolt and set one hand at liberty, by the aid of which, and his teeth, he soon had both at liberty, and he was not long in liberating his feet. But fearing a discovery might lead to worse treatment, he replaced his irons, bolts and pins before the arrival of his keeper. It soon became a fine recreation for the General to take off and put on his irons at pleasure.

One day the Captain wishing to afford the crew some merriment, ordered that Allen be brought on deck. Hoping to frighten him, the Captain said: "There is a probability that the ship will founder—if so, what will become of us, especially you, Mr. Allen, a rebel against the King? "Why," said Allen, "that would be very much like our dinner hour." "Why so?" said the Captain not reflecting that Allen was not allowed to come on deck only when he the captain went down into his cabin to dine. "Well, you see, answered Allen, "I'd be on my way up just as you would be going below." This answer did not please the Captain, and he began a regular tirade of abuse against the American people. "In a short time," said the Captain, "all the rebels will be in the same situation as yourself." This was too much for Allen, and raising his hands to his teeth, soon snapped the bolts and pins, took off his irons and threw them overboard—seized the panic struck Captain by the collar, and threw him headlong upon the deck, then turning to the affrighted crew, he exclaimed in a voice of thunder. "If I am insulted again during the voyage, I'll sink the ship and swim ashore." This exploit had such an effect on the Captain and crew, that no further insult was offered to the General during the passage.

The following persons were elected Town Clerks in the years set to them, and have continued in the office to 1851.

The tract of country now known by the name of Vermont, was, previous to the American Revolution, known by the name of "The New Hampshire Grants," and was divided into four counties, by the Government of the then Colony of New York, viz: Cumberland and Gloucester on the east, and Bennington and Charlotte on the west of the range of Green Mountains. But by a careful perusal of facts of those times it does most plainly appear that the inhabitants of the Grants were not very obedient subjects to those New Yorkers who volunteered to rule over them. Soon after the Declaration of Independence at Philadelphia, in July, 1776, the Green Mountain Boys, concluded they were not under the rule of any earthly nation or government except their own. They therefore called a Convention of Delegates from the several towns, which Convention met at Dorset, July 24, 1776, but no records show what steps were then taken, only it was adjourned to Sept. 15th, same year, when it again met at the same place, as appears from the following record:

NEW HAMPSHIRE GRANTS.

Wilmington and Cumberland were represented by letters from some of the principal inhabitants. Among the proceedings of this Convention at that time were the following: To take suitable measures as soon as may be, to declare the New Hampshire Grants a free and separate district, which vote passed without a dissenting voice. A committee of seven reported the wrongs and grievances suffered from New York, and the impolicy of any further connection with them, directly or indirectly. Resolved, Therefore, that this Convention being fully convinced, that it is absolutely necessary that every individual in the United States of America should exert themselves to the utmost of their abilities in the defence of the liberties thereof; therefore, that this Convention, may the better satisfy the public of their punctual attachment to the said common cause at present as well as heretofore, we do make and subscribe the following covenant, viz:

We, the subscribers, inhabitants of that district of land commonly called and known of New Hampshire Grants, being legally delegated and authorized to transact the public and political affairs of the aforesaid district for ourselves and constituents, do solemnly covenant and engage, that for the time being, we will strictly and religiously adhere to the several resolves of this or any future convention constituted on said district by the free voice of the friends to American liberties, which shall not be repugnant to the resolves of the honorable the Continental Congress, relative to the cause of America.

The Convention met again at Westminster, January 15, 1777. The committee appointed to bring in a draught of a Declaration of Independence reported:

Right 1. That whenever protection is withheld, no allegiance is due, or can of right be demanded. The committee then after repeating the wrongs from New York, offered the following declaration: "This Convention, whose members are duly chosen by the free voice of their constituents in the several towns, on the New Hampshire Grants, in public meeting assembled, in our own names, and in behalf of our constituents, do hereby proclaim and publicly declare, that the district of territory, comprehending and usually known by the name and description of the New Hampshire Grants, of right ought to be, and is hereby declared forever hereafter to be considered, as a free and independent jurisdiction, or State; by the name, and forever hereafter to be called, known, and distinguished by the name of New Connecticut, alias Vermont, &c."

This Convention after informing the Continental Congress of their doings, adjourned to meet at Windsor, on the first Wednesday in June.

The above declaration brought down upon us the wrath of New York, but notwithstanding that, those brave Green Mountain Boys, whom any nation or people on earth might well be proud of, followed up their declaration by the adoption of a Constitution the same year, and a Legislative session in March following. In February, 1779, the Legislature passed an act in the face and eyes of the New York law dividing the State into two counties, Bennington on the west and Cumberland on the east of the Green Mountains, and divided each county into two shires each, Westminster and Newbury on the east, and Bennington and Rutland on the west. That division of counties remained till the extra session of the Legislature in Feb. 1781, when the County of Rutland was incorporated, from Bennington, and Windsor and Orange counties were incorporated from Cumberland, and the name of Cumberland altered to Windham.

Zadock Thompson, in his history of Vermont, says, that Chittenden County was incorporated October 22d, 1782, and Addison County Feb. 27, 1787. This is a mistake as to both Counties, as will be seen by the following extract of a letter from Mr. Thompson to a friend, who had addressed him on the subject: "While in Montpelier a few days since, I was induced, by your suggestions, to examine the manuscript acts in the office of the Secretary of State, and I there found that Addison County was incorporated October 18th, 1785, and that Chittenden County was incorporated October 22nd, 1787." This explanation explains a mystery which was hard to solve, which was, "how came Addison County Court to set in Colchester at their Nov. Term, 1786, and one of Chittenden County citizens for the first Sheriff, in 1785, and one of her citizens for side Judge 1785, and another in 1786," for such are the facts, and as appeared it was all done over one year before Addison County was incorporated. When the County of Addison was incorporated it included within its boundaries the present county, (except Granville and Orwell,) the whole of Chittenden, Franklin, Grand Isle, and Lamoille, nine towns from Orleans, and eight from Washington Counties, and that was the size of the County till Oct. 19, 1787, when Kingston, now Granville, was annexed to it from Orange County, and three days after by the incorporation of Chittenden County. Addison County was reduced to its present dimensions, except Starksboro' has been added from Chittenden, and Orwell from Rutland, and a part of Philadelphia in Rutland has been added to Goshen, and a part of Goshen has been set to Rochester, and the town of Warren in 1829 was annexed to Washington County. Avery's Gore has been annexed to Lincoln, altering no County lines. The first County Court in Addison County, was holden at Addison, on the first Tuesday in March, 1786, and continued to be holden there, (with the exception of the November term of that year which was held at Colchester,) till the first of April, 1792, and since that all the sessions have been holden at Middlebury.

The Counties of Caledonia and Franklin were incorporated Nov. 8th, 1796, the former from Orange and the latter from Chittenden Counties. The Legislature on the 2d day of March, 1797, passed an act defining the boundaries of eleven counties, including the whole State, but left the Counties of Essex and Orleans to be connected with Caledonia and Franklin for all purposes till a future Legislature should elect their County officers, which was done at the October Session, 1797 as to Orleans County, and for Essex County, the County officers were appointed at the Oct. session 1800. Thus the State remained with eleven Counties till the organization of Grand Isle County, which took place in November, 1805. After the sessions of the Legislature were established at Montpelier, and that became a thriving town, the Legislature saw fit in 1811, to organize a new County of which Montpelier was near the centre, by the name of Jefferson, containing 15 towns from the adjoining Counties of Orange, Caledonia and Chittenden. In 1814, when the Federal party were predominant in every branch of the government, the name of the County was changed to "Washington," and has retained that name since. In 1836, the County contained 19 towns by the addition of Elmore from Orleans, Woodbury from Caledonia, Roxbury from Orange, and Warren from Addison. In 1836, the County of Lamoille was incorporated by taking Stowe and Elmore from Washington, Mansfield, which has since been annexed to Stowe from Chittenden; Eden, Hydepark, Morristown and Wolcott from Orleans, and the other five towns from Franklin, and the State has remained in that situation since till 1848, when the towns of Windsor, and Montpelier were divided into two towns each, West Windsor and East Montpelier, making 240 organized towns in the State.

| "             | Oct. 8  | 35 Nov. 7    | 31    | 14,895 31   | This year ended the old Connecticut practice of all the Clergymen going to Election, and dining at the expense of the State, and have a sermon from one of them. Some of the most radical members came to the conclusion that the money and time thus spent might be put to a better use. They therefore resolved to have no more Election Sermons with accompanying expenses after 1834 unless it should be otherwise ordered in future. This has not yet been done; but whether any very material benefit has been effected by the change is a doubt in the minds of many. If a Farmer lived a man to mow in his meadow six days, & he should go early to the meadow and swing his scythe a few times on the sixth day, then quit and go home, there is a doubt whether that farmer would feel disposed to pay full price for that last day. But if the man had taken his pay for the six days, and quit on the fourth day morning, it might be some less doubtful how that farmer would act, but would he be apt to hire him again? |                         |

HON. STEPHEN HAIGHT,

Of Monkton, commenced in legislation while young, he first represented the town in 1812, and was elected each year to 1822, eleven years, and three years afterwards. He was four years judge of the County Court, and four years Sheriff, ending the last office in 1832. In the fore part of his public life he belonged to the old Federal School in politics, and figured very adroitly in effecting the election of Martin Chittenden, Governor in 1813. The federal members of the legislature and many others of the party met at Montpelier the fore part of election week, and there found, on comparing notes, that unless some of the freemens votes were rejected, there would be a federal majority of four in the House, and a republican majority of ten in the Council. It was then found that rejecting the votes from Colchester on account of a part of them being given by the U. S. troops, and altering the votes of a few other towns, it would elect three more federal members in the Council, and bring the Joint Assembly to a tie, 112 each. The canvassing committee with a large federal majority carried out the measures concocted in Caucus, and brought the legislature to a tie. Thus legislation stood nearly still for a week, but tampering with a republican member to carry a load to Boston, at a great profit did not start so still, a few federal leaders kept that moving, but not to much purpose, as he staid in the house and voted for Jonas Galusha throughout, making a tie, 112 each. After a number of ballots the votes were reported 112 for Martin Chittenden, and 111 only for Jonas Galusha. It has caused many conjectures as to who was guilty, or negligent, as to that vote backing. From an examination of the Journal it might be readily inferred that Judge Kinne, a republican member from Plainfield, was at fault, but although he was very feeble, and scarcely able to leave his lodgings, he did attend on the election of Governor and voted till all was done, and the fault must lie at another's door. There were four test votes taken during the maneuvering to get the two branches together, and one after, and at each the federal vote was 108, and the highest on the other side was 103, and that only once. There was a member of the house that year from a small town in the southerly part of Bennington County, and for the first time, and last but one, that was counted with the republicans; but by an examination of the five test votes as stated, he voted twice on the federal side, twice on the republican, and on the other he did not vote, and if he carried out his principles as he began, I should look no further to where that missing vote did not come from.

Whenever Mr. De Forest, a federalist, or Speaker, did not vote, the name of the gentleman from Bennington County would help up the number to 108 on all the test votes. And it is possible that Mr. De Forest being unwell, retired before the last vote was taken, being satisfied that his helper would help him again.

In the latter part of Judge Haight's term of isolation he became quite radical, and was influential in procuring the passage of a bill for reducing the fees of many officers, including the Court Judges, of which he was one. When the Clerk of the court had counted out the amount due each Judge at the end of a session, which was much reduced under his own bill. The Judges looked on the money as if in a quandary about ing it. Judge Olin observed, "O ! take it by means, Judge, and nurse it up as it is one of our own children."

In 1821 he got a law passed for enlarging the jurisdiction of justices of the peace to $100, and restricting appeals for a less amount claimed on $10. This law very materially affected the farmers, as it much reduced their business in higher courts; and they tried to prevent the passage of the bill, and to get it repealed afterward. In 1824 a violent effort was made to repeal the 5th. section, which prevented appeals from a justice under $10. Judge Haight arose and began, "Mr. Speaker, we have heard much said against this little 5th. section of the act of 1821, and I challenge any gentleman upon this floor, if he knows of any injustice being done under the operation of that section, let the house have the facts, we can then act understandingly". Mr. Fletcher of Lyndon informed the house of a case within his knowledge. Mr. A had given a note to Mr. B for a good likely cow at a stated time, which was not paid, and a suit brought, and the justice concluded that a good likely cow was worth $17, and gave a verdict accordingly, which was paid. Soon after Mr. A found a justice who thought that $15 was as much as a good likely cow was worth, and he gave out a writ against Mr. B, and gave judgment that Mr. A recover back $2 and cost, and not appealable as the law now stands. Some other cases were mentioned, and one by Esq. Bell of Walden, in his peculiar mode of delivery, about an old saw, in which it appeared that some injustice had been done. Judge Haight wished to know whether those corrupt justices the jester informed the King what the Lord had threatened. Said the King, "if he kills you I will have him hung in fifteen minutes afterwards." I wish your Majesty would hang him fifteen minutes before, it would make no material difference with him, but a very essential difference with me. Just so with the argument of the gentleman from Monkton, he would hang those corrupt justices who have done injustice under this law, but I am for repealing that law under

The Judge was subsequently admitted as an attorney at the Bar, and removed to Burlington, where he vigorously advocated the election and measures of Andrew Jackson to the Presidency.

He afterwards removed to Washington City where he acted as an agent in the Pension business. He was a number of times appointed Sergeant at Arms, in the Senate, which office he held at his death, January 12, 1841, aged 58.

By an examination of SLADE'S VER-MONT STATE PAPERS, you will find the particulars of a Union formed by a part of New Hampshire, and a part of New York, with Connecticut, for the extension of the latter; and representatives were admitted from those states into the legislature a number of times, till their October session 1781, holden at Charlestown, N. H., the connection was brought to an end. On this and the next page you will find the names of the representatives from those two states, one of which was chosen Clerk in 1778, and another Lieut. Governor in 1781.

*The town of Salisbury claim Judge Painter as their Representative in 1787, in consequence of a new running of town lines, taking his house unexpectedly, two or three rods south of the south line of Middlebury, and the journals of that year support their claim; but I have not yet learned that they claim him in 1786, although living in the same house both years. Nor have I been informed of their laying any claim to Thomas Sawyer who represented Leicester in 1787, 8 and 9, although he resided on the disputed territory between the two towns, and on that part which is now Salisbury village.

The foregoing pages contain all the Representatives previous to the year 1788, that are to be found. The journals of March, 1778, and October, 1786, do not contain a catalogue of the members, but I think I have both nearly accurate.

The remainder will be arranged by counties alphabetically, and will come as even as at mode without dividing counties. By the figure before the towns, the reader will be enabled to follow any town through the work to 1850.

HON. HENRY OLIN

Came into Leicester at an early day, and on his large dimensions and rather awkward habits, the people were not at first much prepossessed in his favor. But being of a strong mind and full of wit and anecdote, prejudices began to wear away, and he was chosen a Representative in 1799 and continued to be chosen for twenty-two out of twenty-six years. He was two years a member of the Council, and three years Lieutenant Governor, and one short session was a member of Congress to supply the place of the Hon. Charles Rich, deceased. He was one of the Assistant Judges of the County Court for eight years, and Chief Judge fifteen years in succession from 1801 to 1824.

When he first began legislation it was a new business to him, and the sound of his own voice would sometimes embarrass him in that body of talented men. An anecdote is related of him as follows: He arose from his seat and began "Mr. Speaker. I rise for information," and halted. Upon which another member arose and said: "Mr. Speaker I very much rejoice that the gentleman can arise with such a commendable object, for no man needs it more."

He had among his townsmen an old gentleman that had taken a dislike to the Judge, but being politically agreed, he would support the Judge for office. On one occasion he came into meeting while the balloting was going on,—pushed himself through the crowd to the box and spoke out in a loud voice, "here Mr. Constable is a vote for Judge Olin, but I hope God will forgive me." During his services on the bench he had given some offence to one of the young attorneys, that has since disappointed many of his enemies. A person informed the Judge that this attorney was going to the Legislature to prevent him from being re-appointed. Well, said the Judge, I will tell the company a story. When I first came into Leicester, I built a log hut and began cutting down the forest east of it which enabled me to see the sun and moon as they rose, earlier than usual. I had a little dog, and he seeing the moon lower down than he had before, and shining through the trees concluded some mischief was on foot, and began to bark at the moon, and kept at it, and paused. Well, says one, "what next?" Why, I could not discover that it had any effect whatever on the moon, that kept on its course the same as if the dog had been silent, but I discovered the little dog was some hoarse for a few days, and I never knew him to bark at the moon again.

When the Judge took his seat in Congress in Dec., 1824, the weather was unpleasant and very different from what he was accustomed to see, and having but a short time to stay, his brother members were not very anxious for an acquaintance, and he was lonely. One of the members in conversation with him, wished to know how he liked Washington as compared with Vermont. The Judge said he liked some things in Washington very well, but he preferred Vermont in many respects, and one in particular, which is, here you have white butter and yellow girls, and in Vermont we have yellow butter and white girls.

The Judge removed to Salisbury in the spring of 1837, where he died the same year, aged about 70 years.

HON. SAMUEL C. CRAFTS

Is a son of Col. Ebenezer Crafts, who began the first settlement of Craftsbury in 1788, though he did not remove his family there till February, 1791, but was there himself and experienced many of the hardships incident to a life in the wilderness, having to draw the female part of his family, with others who came with him, from Cabot, 18 miles, on hand sleds with snow shoes, and snow four feet deep. The town was organized in March, 1792, and Samuel C. Crafts was the first Town Clerk, which office he held, by annual elections till March, 1829, in which Joseph Scott (then Jun., was elected and has held it till Feb., 1851.) Samuel C. Crafts was born at Woodstock, in the county of Windham, State of Connecticut, on the 6th day of October, A. D. 1768. He graduated at Harvard University, Massachusetts, in July, 1790; and in the winter

Following came with his parents to Vermont. He was soon after chosen a delegate to a Convention which formed the Constitution at Windsor, July 4, 1793, and was the youngest member of that convention, and is believed to be the only one of that convention now living. He was also a member of the House of Representatives in 1796, 1800, -1, 3, and 5, and Clerk of the Assembly in 1798, and 9. He was a member of the Council in 1809, 1810, 1811, 1812, and would have been in 1813, had not the canvassing committee of that year viewed it be their duty to reject the votes returned from the town of Colchester.

He was appointed first Assistant Judge of Orleans County Court, on its first organization in 1800, and continued in that office till 1810, at which time he was appointed Chief Judge, and held that office till December 1st, 1816, in which year he was elected a member of Congress to commence March 4, 1817, and was three times subsequently elected and continued to March 3d, 1825; when he was again elected Councillor, which office he held for the two succeeding years. In October, 1825 he was appointed first Judge of the County Court which he held till December, 1828. In 1828 and 1829, he was chosen Governor of the State by the people, and in 1830 was Governor, but chosen by the Legislature. In the winter of 1842 he received from the Governor the appointment of Senator in Congress, in room of the Hon. Samuel Prentiss, who had resigned on being appointed a District Judge in the room of Judge Paine deceased. In the fall of that year he was elected by the Legislature to fill the vacancy in the Senate till March 3d, 1843. He was President of the Constitutional Convention of 1840. In all the duties he has performed, "diligent" has been his principal object, and he has been able to say that he ever swerved from that. He still lives in Craftsbury, enjoying remarkable health and strength for one of his a-

*The town of Weybridge, politically, has been about even. This year, Samuel Jewett was returned a member by one majority. He took his seat in the House, which was politically against him, and it was contested, and the Committee on Elections reported that he was not duly elected. The House accepted the report by a vote of 98 to 77, and the seat left vacant. The old gentleman remarked, "I am on the gain, I had but one majority to come here, and I have got twenty one majority to go home."

MATHEW LYON,

Who first represented Arlington in 1779, &c., and afterwards Fairhaven many times, endeavored to obtain the passage of an act giving him the exclusive right of Slitting Iron in Vermont. He had counted a member from a town very near Bennington, a political friend, as one of the supporters of his bill, but after hearing argument on both sides, the project looked like asking too much, and when his name was called to vote on the question, he asked to be excused, reasons were

Was settled over the Baptist society in Chester in 1788, and continued as their Pastor, till his death in 1833. He took an active part in politics as well as religion, being of the Jefferson school, was frequently elected to the offices of Selectman, Town Clerk, &c. He was chosen to represent the town in 1801, and was chosen nine years after, making ten years a member of the House, three years of which he was chosen Speaker, and was four years a Councillor, and five years was chosen Lieutenant Governor by the people. He was eighteen years one of the Assistant Justices of the County Court.—The Parson was fond of a good joke, and he had one neighbor, Hugh Henry, who was a match for him. On a Saturday evening, a young man, and moneyless, called at the Parson's house for supper and lodging. The Parson did not see fit to comply with the request, and sent him to his neighbor Henry, and assured him that he would be well provided for, but still the man will refuse you at first, but you stick to him and he will accommodate you. The young man called as directed, and was refused. I was told you would refuse to keep me unless I stuck to you, which I shall do. Who told you that? said Mr. Henry, a large man at such a house. Well, if Parson Leland sent you here you shall stay, and what would you like for supper? O most any thing that comes handy, for I have no money to pay you. But what would you choose if you had money? I should like a good warm supper had I wherewith to pay you, for to be honest with you, I have had very little food to-day. A warm supper was soon provided, to which the young man paid his best respects, nor was he allowed to depart the next morning till he had done justice to a good breakfast. The young man was going to try his fortune in the western wilderness, and had a small dog with him. Just before he was ready to start, and being near meeting time, Mr. Henry informed me, that his dog was not a proper one to go into the wilderness with, and that he had a neighbor who had a large dog, and just the one for the woods among the wild animals, and he would like to exchange him for a small one, but no doubt he will refuse at first, and tell you to go about your business, I do not swap dogs on Sunday, and the like, but you stick to him and you will get his dog. The young man went to the house just as the Parson was starting for meeting and informed him that he had come to swap dogs, and received the answer that Mr. Henry predicted. Well I was to you would make such excuses, but that in case I stuck to you I should get your dog, and that, so you may rest assured I shall do, and went with the Parson to the steps of the meeting house. The Parson finding the man to be as good as his word, told him to go and take the dog, and be off in a hurry, and never trouble me again in this way. Mr. Henry outlived the Parson a few years, but their remains are both in one grave yard in Chester, and not far distant from each other as the grave stones show.

HON. SAMUEL SAFFORD

Was an early settler in Bennington, and among the early patriots who espoused the cause of Vermont in her controversy with New York, and the cause of the union in her revolutionary struggles with Great Britain. He was a Major in Col. Seth Warner's regiment, and served through the war, except he found time to represent the town of Bennington in the Legislature in 1781-2. In 1783 he was chosen a member of the Council and was annually chosen to that office for twenty-two years

The Council of Censors chosen in 1799, and 1806, did not order any convention to be holden, and alterations were made in the Constitution by any convention between 1793 and 1829. The convention of 1829 made an amendment in relation to the voting of Foreigners, that made it necessary for them to become naturalized before they were allowed to vote in freemen's meeting. The convention of 1836 changed the old Council of 12, to a Senate of 30. The convention of 1843 made no alteration. The convention of 1850 changed the mode of electing County Court Judges, Sheriffs, High Bailiffs, State's Attornies, Judges of Probate, and Justices of the Peace, giving the pointment of these officers to the people of their several districts.

HON. GAMALIEL PAINTER

Came into Middlebury, from Salisbury, Conn., in company with John Chipman, from the same place, early in the year 1773, with a view of making a permanent settlement. Before they arrived, Mr. Benjamin Smalley had come into town with his family for the same object, and built a small house, the first erected in town. They settled near together in the south west corner of the town. Chipman had commenced a clearing of six or eight acres in 1766 and abandoned it, as no one lived within many miles of him. When he returned he settled on the same lot that he first began upon, and where Jonathan Seeley now resides. Painter settled near a mile south of him on the south side of the town, as the lines are now established, and Smalley about half a mile west of Chipman. Thus the settlement continued to increase till the ravages of the war caused them all to abandon their homes in June, 1776, except Benjamin Smalley and a Mr. Daniel Foot, and they followed in September after. After the close of the war, in 1783, many of those who had left in 1776, and others returned to the town, and became permanent settlers. Thompson's Vermont, does not inform us whether Painter or Chipman returned or not. Gamaliel Painter and John Chipman returned in 1784, and took possession of their old lots, where Chipman remained till his death in a good old age. Painter removed into the village in 1787 and built a saw mill and grist mill on the east side of the creek on the site of Wood's grist mill and the cotton factory. Judge Painter represented the town in 1786, 7, 8, 9, 90, 1, 2, 3, 6, 1801, 3, 5, 9 and 10 and was elected Councillor in 1813 and 14. He was a Judge of the County Court in 1785, 7, 8, 9, 90, 1, 2, 3 and 5, and Sheriff in 1786. He was a delegate to the Dorset Convention in 1777 that declared the independence of Vermont at an adjourned meeting at Westminster.

He was a public spirited man and made many donations for various purposes. He took an ac-ive part in all the improvements of the village, and to his influence more than any other person, he the friends of Literature indebted for the establishment of the College in Middlebury; and to his generosity are the town indebted, by a free gift of the common on the east side of the creek, and the Congregational Church are under a debt of gratitude to him for the assistance and funds he furnished in erecting their house of worship.

He had buried two wives, and his third one survived him a few years. He had two sons by his first wife, and one daughter by his second, all of which were taken from him by death before his decease; his youngest son was drowned in June, 1797, aged 24. The Judge died May 21, 1819, leaving no heirs. In his will he left a few legacies to his wife, and faithful servants, and the remainder from 10 to $15,000 to Middlebury College.

DAVID REDDING AND ETHAN ALLEN.

In the journals of the Legislature held at Bennington, June 6, 1778, may be found the following Voted, that the petition presented to this House by David Redding, be taken into consideration and that a committee of five be appointed to prepare a bill, in consequence of said petition, &c. Committee chosen, Mr. Webb, Mr. Alverdt, Capt. John Fassett, Ensign Harris and Major Olin.

Redding had been convicted of enemical conduct towards Vermont which was considered, at that time, unpardonable by the multitude, and sentenced to be executed on the 4th day of June. The curiosity which has ever been manifested on such occasions, was greatly heightened on this, as it was the first public execution ever witnessed in Vermont. To this curiosity was added a strong feeling of indignation which such a crime was calculated to excite in those days. A vast multitude collected to witness the execution. In the meantime, Redding's Council had discovered a very important defect in the proceedings. Redding had been tried by a jury of six only, which was not in accordance with the common law of England, which required twelve. On application to the Governor and Council, the following reprieve was granted just as the people were assembling to view the execution:

"IN COUNCIL, June 4th, 1778.

To Benjamin Fay, Esq., Sheriff of the County of Bennington.—This Council have taken into consideration, this day, the petition of David Redding, now a prisoner, under sentence of death, and do hereby, in Convention, reprieve him, the said David Redding, until Thursday next, the 11th instant, June, precisely at the hour of 2 o'clock, in the afternoon of said day. You are, therefore, hereby ordered to suspend his execution until that time.

By order of Council,

THOMAS CRITTENDEN."

On the reading of the reprieve a clap of thunder would not produced half of the excitement manifested. Reasoning was out of the question. The mass had pronounced him guilty, and were not a condition to understand how the verdict of the whole could, so easily, be set aside by the Governor and Council. While they were agitating what to do, and greatly excited with indignation. THAN ALLEN, suddenly pressing through the crowd, ascended a stump, and waving his hat, exclaimed, "ATTENTION THE WHOLE"—proceeded to announce the reason which produced the reprieve—advised the multitude to depart peaceably to their homes, and return on the day fixed for the execution, in the act of the Governor and Council;—adding with an oath—You shall see somebody hung at all events, for if Redding is not then hung, I will be hung myself." Upon this assurance, the people became quiet and soon dispersed. Redding was again tried on the 9th and executed on the 11th, so that Allen was spared to show an act of humanity two years afterwards.

LOST CHILDREN.

In the town of Sunderland, on the 31st. of May, 1780, two daughters of Eldad Taylor, then of underland, but afterwards of Wilkston, Keziah aged 7, and Betsey aged 4 years, wandered into the woods. Not returning, the parents became alarmed and commenced a search, which, with the aid of a few neighbors was continued through the night. The next day a universal turn out was renewed, and continued the search till the middle of the afternoon of the third day, when it was unsuccessfully relinquished, and the people assembled who had been out, with a view of returning to their homes. Being about to disperse, a large, stout man ascended a stump, and in a loud voice informed them that the search ought not to be abandoned. Soon every eye was upon him. In the usual manner of the man, after pointing to the father and mother of the children, now overcome with grief and despair, bade each person present, and especially those who were parents, to make the case of those parents their own, and then say whether they would go contentedly home and not make one more effort to save those dear little ones, who were, probably, now alive, but fast perishing with hunger, and will soon spend their last breath in crying to have father and mother give them some food to eat. As he spoke, his large frame became agitated, and the tears fast rolling down his cheeks, and in an assembly of several hundred bold men of that day, but few dry eyes were among them. "I'll go! I'll go!" was soon heard from every part of the multitude. They soon took for the woods, and before night they were successful in restoring the lost ones to the arms of their parents. Need I inform you that that large man was any other than the brave and old officer, ELHAN ALLEN? The first night they laid down by a large tree, and the second on a large rock. They found plenty of water but not much food but leaves, &c.

By a law passed in 1849, and which took effect in 1850, the number of Supreme Court Judges were reduced to three, and four Circuit Judges to be elected, one for each of the Circuits to act as Chief Justices of the County Courts of their respective Circuits, and in pursuance of that law, the following Judges were appointed at the last session of the Legislature. In the first Circuit, Bennington, Rutland and Addison Counties, Robert Pierpoint was chosen. In the second circuit, Windham, Windsor and Orange, Jacob Collamer was appointed. In the third circuit, Chittenden, Franklin, Lamoille, and Grand Isle, Milo L. Bennett was elected. In the fourth circuit, Washington, Caledonia, Orleans and Essex, Luke P. Poland, was chosen.

By the above table it appears that Stephen Royce, jr., and Stephen Royce, the same person, has received 24 elections of Judge. Charles K. Williams 19. Isaac F. Redfield 16. Royal Tyler 12. Milo L. Bennett 12. Theophilus Harrington and Moses Robinson 10 each. Paul Spooner Titus Hutchinson and Jacob Collamer, 9 each. John Fassett, jr., and Richard Skinner, 8 each. Daniel Kellogg, Lott Hall, Samuel S. Phelps, Enoch Woodbridge, and Joel Doolittle, 7 each. Nathaniel Chipman, and Jonathan Robinson, 6 each. Noah Smith, Isaac Tichenor, William Brayton, Samuel Prentiss, and Samuel Knight, 5 each. Hiland Hall, Nathaniel Niles, David Fay and Dudley Chase, 4 each. John Throop, Peter Olcott, Thomas Porter, Elijah Paine and Ephraim Paddock, 3 each, and the remainder, a less number, making 60 Supreme Judges in 72 years past.

By a law passed in February, 1781, the election of County Officers were given to the people of their respective districts, except the State's Attorneys. The law was very similar to the one now in force, hence arises the difficulty of ascertaining who our County officers were during continuance of that law, as they were not to be found in the Legislative Journals.

The above are all the Judges of a Special Court that I can find were appointed previous to 1781. Nor have I been able to find by any county records that they had Clerks, Sheriffs or State's Attorneys till 1781. It does, however, appear from other sources that Clerks, Sheriffs, and States Attorneys were appointed previous to the time above stated. Slade's State papers inform us that David Redding who was executed at Bennington, June 11, 1778, was, or had been in the custody of Benjamin Fay, Sheriff of the County of Bennington, (page 239.) By the same authority it appears that Joseph Fay on the 10th of December, 1778, was appointed Clerk of the Supreme Court of Bennington Co., and on the 26th of May, 1779, Stephen R. Bradley was appointed Clerk of Cumberland County, pages 249, 251 and 252 we are informed that Noah Smith was appointed State's Attorney pro tem for Cumberland Co., in May, 1779, and in June, 1779, was appointed State's Attorney for Bennington County. Thus it appears that those officers were appointed notwithstanding the court records do not show it.

In February, 1779, a law was passed dividing the State into two counties. Bennington on the west and Cumberland on the east side of the mountain. If it was divided as laid down in the law published in Slade's State papers, (pages 294-5,) the county of Cumberland would look rather waspish, being but 6 miles wide near the center, but as there was then no town in the State by the name of Bradford, it is presumed that Barnard is the town on which the line should be described as that would be running a very proper course, between the last and next mentioned points.

Since the above was in type, I have received a letter from the Clerk of the Court in Bennington which says. "I could not find any Record, nor anything else to show who were the Sheriffs of the County before 1786, but I have just had a conversation with Samuel Fay, who resides in the town where the "Council of Safety" held its meetings in this town, and he says that Benjamin Fay, his father, was Sheriff two or three years, and remembers when he hung Redding, and when his father's time had expired Jonas Galusha took the office, and he continued in it till David Robinson was appointed. He is now 79 years old, and has been Deputy Sheriff 18 years and Sheriff 12, making 30 years in the Sheriff department.

HON. SAMUEL SAFFORD.

On page 37 is a short account of the Hon. Samuel Safford. I have since that was printed found that his grandfather, Joseph Safford, came from England and settled first at Plymouth, Mass., and removed to Norwich, Conn., in 1723. Joseph Safford, jr., the father of Samuel, was born at Norwich, Mass., in 1705. Samuel Safford was born at Norwich, Conn., April 14, 1737, and died Bennington March 13th, 1813, being very near 76 years of age. On page 38, last line but one for 1786 read 1781.

REV. ELISHA HUTCHINSON,
the first minister of Pomfret, had some singularities about him. He was preaching a sermon farmland at a private house, with two rooms, and he stood in the door way. When about half ugh his discourse, Lieutenant Governor Spooner came in, upon which, he informed his audithat he had got about half through his sermon, but as Governor Spooner has come to hear it, it begin it again, and looking at a woman near him says, good woman, get out of that chair let Gov. Spooner have a seat, if you please.

DUBARTUS WILLARD,

Known more familiarly by the name of Bartie Willard, in an early day resided at Essex, and was a wheelright by trade. He was also a satirical poet, and prided himself on taking some one off in a short way. He was the first Representative of Essex, chosen in 1786, but not afterwards. The next day after he was chosen, he went to pay his respects to Gov. Chittenden, and the Governor had been informed who was chosen from Essex, but thinking to give Bartie a small shot—knowing it would be returned with interest, he asked him who they chose in his town for Representative? Bartie answered, for the want of better stock they took me. "Well," said the Governor. "It's a misfortune that we have got to be so poor in some of our towns about here, as not to be able to get iron, and have to use wood for wedges." "That's a fact, but misfortunes never come single," said Bartie, "it is a greater misfortune that the State is so poor as not to be able to procure a good decent made beetle, but be compelled to use an old basswood maul to drive them with?"

While at the Legislature, he was found by some of his brother members taking his rations at the bar before he had paid the wash room a visit. They insisted that he should either treat the company or deal out some poetry. Bartie concluded that as money was more scarce with him than poetry, he would pay the latter, and did as follows:

"Our forefathers were like the goats,
First wash'd their eyes, and then their throats;
But we their sons have grown more wise,
First, wash our throats, and then our eyes."

Bartie was driving a team with a load of hay, and upset the load, and he came into a ditch so uated that he could move some, but could not extricate himself. A man, who had a short time previous sworn out of jail on a debt Bartie held against him, came along and found there was trouble, went to work and removed the load, and out came Bartie from under it. Now Bartie, what would you have done if I had not come along and helped you out. I would do as you did, stayed there twenty days and swore out.

JUDGE HUTCHINSON AND JUDGE PADDOCK.

During the time the above named gentlemen were Judges of the Supreme Court, then consisting five Judges, they were travelling down Onion river in the stage. A few days before, a severe freshet had carried away many of the bridges. At Middlesex the coach and horses forded the river and the passengers passed over in a small boat, which made three or four loads. After Judge Paddock had got into the boat, the boatman gave Judge Hutchinson an invitation to get in. He remarked that he should not cross over the river in a boat with Judge Paddock, and another got in, and all crossed safe. After the stage was reloaded and started, Judge Hutchinson asked one of the passengers if he knew why he refused to cross the river with Judge Paddock, and was answered in the negative. "Well," said he, "Mr. D, I will tell you; we are going to Burlington to hold a session of the Court, and if the boat had upset, and both of us drowned, and any thing had befallen one of the other Judges so that he could not attend, no quorum could be had, and the rogues would go unpunished."

JOSEPH BOWKER, ESQ.

In a late publication, in a note from the above name, I find an account, from which I make the following statement: Joseph Bowker came to Rutland at an early period of its settlement and was active and energetic in his opposition to the unjust claims of New York, and was among the first in effecting a general organization of the inhabitants of the Grants in opposition to those claims. This opposition, in an organized form, was first effected by a convention which met at Dorset in January, 1776, at which time an association was formed and entered into "to defend by arms the liberties of these United American States against the fleets and armies of Great Britain.

*This Convention ratified the United States' Constitution before her admission into the Union.

And this association was declared to be independent and no way under the direction or advice of the Government of New York. A number of conventions were holden upon the same subject, and adopted measures to aid the GREEN MOUNTAIN BOYS in their hard struggle with all their foes. Of all these conventions Mr. Bowker was President, and Capt. Joseph Bowker in the chair, is found mains of the man are deposited, which the people of Rutland took so much pride to honor while living; and he left no descendants, nor is there any one living that is able to tell those less important items in his public life. I hope and trust for the honor of the town, that the State, County, or town will in some suitable manner raise something to his grave that will commemorate his memory.

DAVID ROBINSON.

This man was born in Hardwick, Mass., Nov. 22, 1751, and was an early resident of Bennington and a soldier in the memorable battle in that town, August 16, 1777. He held the office of Sheriff of that county from 1787 to 1810, with the exception of two years, making 22 years, which is a longer time than that office has been held by any other person in the State. He was United States Marshal eight years, a Major General in 1812, and a member of the Constitutional Convention of 1828. He died at Bennington, Dec., 1843, aged 89.

GEN. SAMUEL FLETCHER

Was born in Grafton, Mass., in 1745. At the age of seventeen he enlisted as a soldier in the old French war, and served one year. On his return he learned the trade of a Blacksmith and followed it four years, when he married a young lady with a handsome property, and, resigning the sledge, removed to Townsend to wield the axe among the trees of the forest. On the commencement of the war in 1775, he joined the American Standard at Bunker Hill, as orderly sergeant. He returned to Townsend in January, 1776, where he was chosen captain of Militia. Being a prominent man, he was ordered to raise as many minute men as possible in his vicinity, to be ready to march at the beat of the drum. His whole company volunteered, and in 1777 they marched to Old Ti, for the aid of the American army there besieged. On this expedition with 13 volunteers, he attacked a British force of 40 men, killed one and took seven prisoners, without loss to his own men. He soon after received a Major's commission, and continued in the service till after the capture of Burgoyne. After his return he rose to the office of Major General of Militia. He was the first representative from Townsend, in the first legislature holden after the adoption of the first Constitution in 1777, and was twice re-elected, and at the last election he was chosen Councillor also, and held that office till 1790, and two years afterwards, 13. In 1788 he was chosen Sheriff of the county, and held that office in succession 18 years, the longest held by one person in the State, in succession. He was two years or more Judge of the County Court. He died Sept. 15, 1814, aged 69 years.

HEMAN LOWRY,

Of Jericho, was a member of the Legislature one year, and 10 years United States Marshall, and held the office of Sheriff of the county 18 years, the longest of any one in that county. He resided at Burlington, where he resided a number of years, some 16 or 8 years since.

JONATHAN BELL,

Of Rutland, is the next on the list and was Sheriff of the county 16 years, and has long occupied a small piece of land in the burying ground a little North of Rutland village.

JOSEPH SCOTT,

Of Craftsbury, comes in for a short notice, by having held the office of Sheriff of Orleans Co., for a longer term than any other, 14 years. He was seven years a member of the Legislature, one year a member of the Council of Censors and two years a member of Constitutional Conventions, and Judge of Probate six years. He died about 1841.

His son Joseph, was elected Town Clerk in 1829, in room of Governor Crafts, who had held that office since 1792, and is the present Town Clerk. The town have had but two clerks, both of which are now living, 1751. Joseph Jr., was two years a member of the Legislature and has held many important town offices of various kinds. Harvey Scott, which I presume is a son of the Sheriff, took the office of Sheriff one year after his father's time expired, and held it eleven years. So it seems that office is hereditary in the family.

CALVIN FLETCHER,

Of Grand Isle County, was Sheriff 14 years, and a member of the Legislature once. Whether dead or living, is unknown to the compiler.

JOHN CHIPMAN,

Was the first person that came into Middlebury with a view of settling in 1766, but soon abandoned it. In 1773 he came again, and was drove off with the others in 1776. In 1784 he turned the third time and remained till his death in Aug. 1829. He was a Captain in the Revolutionary war, and many curious things are among his records in the Town Clerk's office. He, Joshua Hyde and Stephen Goodrich, were the first selectmen chosen in town, in 1787, and all lived till 1829. He was 12 years Sheriff of the county, and held some other offices in town. In the other counties the Sheriff's term of office was shorter, Nathan Fuller, of Caledonia, held it 11 years. Asaph Fletcher, jr., of Windsor, and Joseph Edson, of Orange, 10 years each. Edson was Marshall 6 years. Prince B. Hall, of Franklin, Greenleaf Webb, of Essex, and John Peck, of Washington, 8 each, and all but one in Lamoille two each.

GOV. ISRAEL SMITH.

A few years since I was at Rutland on business, and spent the Sabbath there, and, as is my usual custom took a walk to the burying ground. I soon came to the grave stone of Ex-Gov. Israel Smith, who had filled a page of his country's history with honor to himself. He graduated at Yale College in 1781, studied law, and removed to Rupert in 1783, and commenced his profession. In 1785, 83, 89 and 90 he represented the town of Rupert in the Legislature, and in 1791 removed to Rutland, and in 1797 was chosen a representative in the General Assembly. He was in high repute as a lawyer, and such was the estimation of his talents that in 1780 he was chosen, together with such noted men as Isaac Tichenor, Stephen R. Bradley, Nathaniel Chipman, Elijah Paine, Ira Allen and Stephen Jacob, Commissioners, to adjust the controversy between Vermont and New York. In 1791 he was a member of the Convention that assented to, and adopted the United States Constitution, preparatory to its being admitted into the Union as a State, which was accomplished the same year. Vermont being entitled to two representatives in Congress, Gov. Smith was chosen for the western district in 1791, and twice afterwards. During his third term in Congress, in 1796, he became identified with the rising republican party, by voting against the appropriation of funds to carry into effect Jay's Treaty. This being unsatisfactory to a majority of his constituents, Mathew Lyon was chosen a member in room of Gov. Smith. In 1797, the Legislature, of which he was a member, elected him Chief Judge of the Supreme Court. He was a noble looking man, and got the name of "the handsome Judge." At the Vergennes Slaughter in 1798, Gov. Smith was not re-elected. In 1800 he was again chosen a member of Congress which he held one term, and at the end of which he took his seat in the United States Senate in March, 1803, which office he resigned on being chosen Governor of the State in October, 1807. While Governor he called the attention of the Legislature to the mode of punishment then existing, and to his influence was the present penitentiary system adopted. He held the office but one year, during which his health was much impaired. His grave stone was worded so different from most others, that I took a copy of it, and is as follows:

"The Honorable Israel Smith, born at Suffield, Connecticut, April 4th, 1759, and died at Rutland, Vermont, Dec. 2d, 1810.

No lengthened scroll, no praise encumbered stone,

My epitaph shall be my name alone:

If that with honor fail to crown my clay,

Oh! may no other fame my deeds repay.

That, only that, shall single out the spot,

By that remembered, or with that forgot."

Judges and Registers of Probate in Randolph District, in addition to those in the proper place for them. The first Judge was Elijah Paine, of Williamstown, appointed in 1789; held the office 2 years, but no record is left of his having done any Probate business, being enquired of some years afterwards for his records, he replied, that, as he did no business in that line, he had kept no record of it, and he found that nobody died in those days. The first case on the records is that of Ezra Dudley, of Roxbury, June 15, 1792, while Israel Converse was Judge, who was of course appointed in 1791, and held the office till Aaron Storrs was appointed in 1796, and James Converse was Register from 1792 to 1796. David Storrs was Register from 1797 to 1799. Aaron Storrs and Moses Hubbard the remainder of the year Dec. 1800, when Jonathan Fisk was appointed Judge, and with James Converse and Joseph Roberts for Registers for two years. The Judge did his own recording till Dec. 1818. Under Frederick Griswold, Jacob K. Parish was Register to Dec. 1832. Wm. Hebard Register to 1833. Wyman Spooner Register to Dec. 1834. Wm. Hebard Register to Dec. 1835. Jacob K. Parish Register to Dec. 1837. William Hebard Register to Dec. 1838. Calvin Blodgett to 1839. Edward C. Redington to 1840. John Colby to 1842. Daniel F. Weymouth to 1843. Philander Perrin to 1844. Gustavus Rolfe to 1845. Philander Perrin to 1846. Jonathan Smith jr. to July, 1848. Cornelius W. Clark to Dec. 1843. Philander Perrin 1849. John B. Hutchinson to Dec. 1850. Cornelius W. Clark to the present time.
